

AN AWFUL FATE.

Austin Gideon of Springfield, Mo., Eaten by His Shipwrecked Comrades.

DIED OF STARVATION AND THEN SERVED AS FOOD TO SAVE THEM.

A Horrible Story from the North Pacific.—The Victim Was an Orphan Boy Who Liked the Sea too Well—Details Told by the Survivors.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 15.—Dr. John Gideon, father of Austin Gideon, has not given up hope that the young man of that name, who was eaten by the crew of the James Allen, which sank on the Unalakleet Islands in the Pacific Ocean, did not drown. J. J. Gideon, the boy's uncle, says he has no doubt of the identity of the young man as his nephew was in San Francisco just before the James Allen sailed and was known to be in search of work. He has copies of the San Francisco "Chronicle" which give a full account of the awful affair.

On the 14th of April the James Allen left San Francisco on a whaling cruise with a crew of forty-nine men, fifteen of whom are still missing.

"At 1:30 o'clock on the morning of May 11," said Capt. Huntley, in telling his story, "the Allen went on the rocks. Without a moment's warning the vessel ran on a hidden reef and immediately began to fill. Seeing that we were going down I ordered the small boats away. They were quickly lowered and all hands left the ship except Fifth Mate Andrew Robinson. He refused to leave with his boat and went down with the wreck.

Of the five boats which left the ship two were lost, with all on board. The others reached Anisla Island, one of the Aleutian group, on May 11. There they all remained until May 16, when an attempt was made to reach Oonalsaska. Four men were drowned in the hapless voyage and six died on the day they reached Unalakleet Island, where they had put in for rest, making their lives until May 20. When Capt. Huntley again set sail with six men for Oonalsaska, he met the Bear, Capt. Healy, who at once called for help. The Bear had been following the players of the three leading clubs, individually and collectively, to attend strictly to business in order to share in the windfall in October.

DISLIKED HIS RELIGION.

CITIZENS OF NORTH PEARL DEMAND THE RESIGNATION OF A CATHOLIC TEACHER.

PEORIA, Ill., Aug. 15.—There is confusion and distress in North Peoria on the appointment of A. J. Bookmeyer, a Catholic, to a position in the public school. At a mass-meeting of men and women the board was bitterly denounced and the resignation of all the members demanded.

Mr. Bookmeyer is said to be a good teacher and his conduct is mainly except on the score of religion. It is not known what was asked concerning his belief and the citizens of the mass meeting are indignant at the way he was appointed.

After the close there was a pretty general feeling that Mr. Bookmeyer had the best chance of getting the position. The manager of the school, however, said he could get no fish and had to fall back on mussels. We scraped them from the rocks and ate them with the soup out of our hats. Meantime we watched and waited and prayed for the action should expire. Some who had strongly disapproved of the hiring of Mr. Bookmeyer said they would, under the circumstances, themselves stick it out if it took a leg or an arm or two to boot.

STILL UNIDENTIFIED.

THE MAN FOUND DEAD IN THE M. & O. YARDS—EAST ST. LOUIS NEWS.

The identity of the unknown man who was found dead in the M. & O. yards, East St. Louis, last week, with a bullet hole in his head, is still a mystery. It was thought the body might be that of Anton J. Huck, a Belleville carpenter, who disappeared from his home in Belleville on June 10. Huck was not identified as such. Joseph

RECEPTION committees in the Ashland District take care to send open carriages for Col. Breckinridge.

SENATORS are not only never docked for absence, but members of their families draw good salaries from Uncle Samuel.

"DE OLE MAN'S" enemies cannot deny that it was great magnanimity to let Maj.
 Warner into the Kansas City delegation.

It should be noted that Senator Vest did not move, scream or struggle when Mr. Gorman circled around and waylaid him from behind.

COL. SAM SCOTT's hotel and the railroads may yet get something substantial out of the Excelsior Convention, but there the benefits are likely to end.

It is reported that petitions are pouring into Congress for the impeachment of Olney. What nonsense! Are not the trusts in the Congressional saddle?

The Old Pretender is not wholly devoid of virtue. It does not insist on its assumption that it paid telegraph rates on a pamphlet that was already in town.

Mr. MCKINLEY says he does not know what is in the new tariff bill. He did not know what was in his own bill until the philanthropists who wrote it had done their work.

The Cincinnati Enquirer is as funny as Mr. Burrows. It says the McKinley robbery is wiped out. There is certainly a pleasing variety of opinions in regard to the new legislation.

If Senator Quay makes a fifteen days' speech against free sugar, what will become of the Republican capital which is supposed to have been made by the ad-vocation of cheap sweetening?

If the destiny of Missouri depended upon the Republican party her fate would now hang on the great question of whether Filley or Kerens is to be the committee and distribute possible patronage.

The display of McKinley pictures at Excelsoir Springs is sufficient evidence that the Missouri Republicans favor exorbitant tariff taxation. There is no such thing as "reasonable protection" in Mc-Kinleyism.

The framers of the Gorman bill are doubtless as much disappointed as any other people. If the bill had been killed, the McKinley law would have remained, and that seems to have been about what they desired.

The Chestnut street property-owners were fortunate in having Ed Butler among them. It is hardly necessary to suggest to Mr. Butler that his "pull" might secure him substantial holdings in other parts of the city.

At the request of property-holders who have a "pull" the social evil is to be imposed on property-holders who have no pull. Would it not be better to permanently quarantine it in a demilitarized district prescribed by the police authorities?

The business of taking care of his Congressional friends who have not been renominated is adding to the President's troubles. But Mr. Harrison passed through a similar ordeal, and would be only too glad to endure it again if the good people would but give him the opportunity.

If Mr. Clews had read the Washington news with proper care he would have known better than to say merely that it was the dominant party that had a hold on the throat of the business interests.
 Mr. Quay and several members of the other party flatter themselves that they had a share in the choking.

We are gratified to observe that on second thoughts the esteemed Republic has concluded that it is safe to recommend at this early date that the next National Democratic Convention indorse the popular selection of Senators. This is a long way around to get to Missouri, but it is probably the only way open to an organization of all political parties.

This Bureau's secret power with all the railroads behind it to discriminate, rebate
 and boycott, is a terror to towns, to merchants and to manufacturers. Its secret black-list is as much a terror to shippers, lawyers or political aspirants as to laboring men. Accordingly its agents have no more trouble in handling commercial bodies, municipal assemblies and legislatures than handling the county and city delegations that are marshaled on free passes to all party conventions by its
 "cow-cowards."

Two years ago it gave a signal manifestation of its power over all parties in this State. At the risk of defeating the Democratic ticket, it compelled the Democrats to renominate a Supreme Judge whose acceptance of pecuniary accommodations
 from railroad attorneys and whose decisions on the bench had made him the favorite of railroad attorneys and a terror to all adverse litigants. This most potent bureau then saved the Democrats from defeat and secured his re-election by having one of its own members, a salaried attorney of the Missouri Pacific, nominated by both the Republicans and the Populists!

Against this centralized and all-pervading power in politics, labor organizations will learn to use their ballots effectively
 about as soon as farmer and merchant bodies. But until they all acquire this art, the hand that commissions our Judges and controls our party conventions and our Federal and State administrations
 will realize little or nothing from it in the first year. The ploy is a cowardly subterfuge to cover trust domination.

The sole purpose which the sugar tax would serve, therefore, would be the increase of the trust's profits from public plunder.

The Government is debared from all benefit of the tax this year and the trust is assured of a profit of not less than $25,- 000,000 on its speculative shipments.

Trust stock has risen and an advance of half a cent in the price of sugar is announced, from which the trust will reap enormous additions to its profits.

The issue is trust or people, and failure of the supplementary sugar bill to pass would be the most disgraceful incident that ever blotted the record of Congress. It would stamp the Senate as the servile creature of the trust and would make the reconstruction of the Senate the paramount question in American politics.

Just as the country is rejoicing at the prospect of better times comes the dampening intelligence that Maj. Elijah Hartford is to be allowed only pay for quarters and for his additional time here for his distinguished service in the Behring Sea arbitration.

When a man has doubts in sight, and half of it suddenly vanishes, he has to be a steely warrior to survive the shock.

The daughter was a daring girl from early peditions alone. She was known as the tion. It is said that before she was 14 she

The story is told of her that at Paul's Valley summer a hall was in progress at the hotel where she was staying, and she was invited to dance by a gentleman who was a member of the hotel staff. During the tango she was a favorite with the men, and when the dance was over, she was invited to dance again. She was weighed perhaps 160 pounds, of robust physique, and was a good dancer.

 her persons more than once occasion fearless. As a Comanche, a dead shot, a woman who was bold and impudent, and who was a wanted woman, and who

It is thought that if William Waldorf Astor had been possessed of George Gould's gumption he would have gone to England as an old sport, and thus readily got into the society of the Prince of Wales. As it is there has not been a single instance, during William Waldorf's stay in London, of the Prince going to the ex-American's house and asking for "Mr. Astor."

A DINGBATS TO CIVILIZATION.

The social evil is once more unpleasantly forced upon the attention of the people of St. Louis by the Police Board's order that the dens must be moved.

This order means that instead of attempting to quarantine, localize, regulate or cure the social pest it is merely to be moved from one place to another and diffused over the city. New localities are to be tainted in order that a tainted locality may be cleansed.

The history of this move will be the history of all other moves which have taken place with periodic regularity. Decent people who are now living in security and comfort will find some day that indecent people have moved next door. Some innocent minds will be shocked and poisoned and reputable homes will be broken up and compelled to shift to make room for disreputable dens. The property of another district will be depreciated until influential property owners demand another move and the diffusive treatment of the social sore will be repeated.

The Post-Dispatch does not assume to instruct the authorities or the people on the proper method of dealing with the evil. We affirm without fear or contradiction that the present brutal and irrational method is an outrage on the public, a violation of decency and moral obligation and a disgrace to Christian civilization.

THE HIDDEN HAND.

Wake Him Up!

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

The Forum, yesterday, "A Taxpayer," makes several growls about the Library, which I think may be traced to an attack of bairns.

I have been using the reading-room daily for months and can testify to the uniform courtesy of the clerks and the general atmosphere of the place. The girls are dirty, but he swallows twenty-five times as much Rocky Mountain in every swallow as he does.

All I have to say in the way of suggestion is that the library should be closed to the public on Sundays.

In each of the other States, as well as in Missouri, there is a Bureau of Political Control organized and maintained to hold party conventions, legislative bodies and public officials, and its secret agents are as potent in commercial and industrial organizations as in the county conventions of all political parties.

This Bureau's secret power with all the
 railroads behind it to discriminate, rebate
 and boycott, is a terror to towns, to merchants and to manufacturers. Its secret
 black-list is as much a terror to shippers,
 lawyers or political aspirants as to laboring men. Accordingly its agents have no more trouble in handling commercial
 bodies, municipal assemblies and legislatures than handling the county and city
 delegations that are marshaled on free passes to all party conventions by its
 "cow-cowards."

Two years ago it gave a signal manifestation of its power over all parties in this State. At the risk of defeating the Democratic ticket, it compelled the Democrats to renominate a Supreme Judge whose acceptance of pecuniary accommodations
 from railroad attorneys and whose decisions on the bench had made him the favorite of railroad attorneys and a terror to all adverse litigants. This most potent bureau then saved the Democrats
 from defeat and secured his re-election by
 having one of its own members, a salaried
 attorney of the Missouri Pacific, nominated by both the Republicans and the Populists!

Against this centralized and all-pervad-
 ing power in politics, labor organizations
 will learn to use their ballots effectively
 about as soon as farmer and merchant bodies. But until they all acquire this
 art, the hand that commissions our Judges
 and controls our party conventions and
 our Federal and State administrations
 will realize little or nothing from it in the first year. The ploy is a cowardly subterfuge to cover trust domination.

Democratic Senators cannot dodge the issue presented by the separate tariff bills providing for free sugar, coal and iron.
 The adoption or failure of the free sugar bill especially will determine the Senate's character.

Vest, Voorhees, Harris, Jones and the other Senators who claim to be tariff reformers cannot plead the caucus pledge as a bar to reform. That disreputable compact with monopoly has been satisfied.
 They cannot plead fear of the defeat of all tariff reform. The general bill is out of the Senate's hands.

There is no justification for depriving the people of the sugar tax to fill the pockets of the trust. The income tax will supply the loss of the sugar tax.

 was a notorious horse thief, and who afterwards proved to be a notorious years by the Federal authorities in the same region. She was captured and sent to the Indian Territory, where she was a favorite with the Indians. Her husband

PUBLIC FUNDS.

The Revenue Derived Under the Provisions of the Tariff.

A Great Reduction Will Be Made on Many Articles of Importation.

BUT SUGAR WILL NET THE SUM OF $48,475,000.

Duties on Agricultural Products Will Drop Off About $25,000,000—Free Wool Will Reduce the Total of the Woolen Schedule Fully $35,000,000—Interesting Figures and Comparisons.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—The amount of revenue to be derived from the new tariff bill, prepared by the Bureau of Statistics of the Treasury Department, presents interesting figures. It shows that the total of the customs receipts for the next fiscal year, based upon the importations of the fiscal year 1894, which is the last year of which the Treasury Department has complete figures, will amount to $179,251,142. The internal revenue is expected to amount to $82,000,000, while the reduction in estimated duties on increased imports, and thereby as well as the total reduction in the revenue, it is believed that a large portion of the revenue from sugar will be lost during the coming year, as the true bill already imported has been greatly reduced. It is therefore believed that the estimate given above is quite as generous as the outlook for the new fiscal year can warrant.

The duties to be received upon the articles enumerated in the schedules of the bill as compared with the original house bill are divided as follows:

Original House Bill
Arrangements and Manufactures of	Wood and Manufactures of
Cotton Manufactures	Cotton Manufactures
Flax, Hemp and Jute and Manufactures of	Flax, Hemp and Jute and Manufactures of
Leather Manufactures	Leather Manufactures
Manufactures of	Manufactures of Metals and Manufactures of	Metals and Manufactures of Wool and Manufactures of	Wool and Manufactures of
Other Manufactures	Other Manufactures
Total	Total

As compared with the present law the ad valorem tax on the various schedules is as follows:

Present Law, Senate Bill,	Senate Bill,
Chemicals, oils and paints.....	Per cent
Earths, earthware and glass.....	50.00
Metal and Manufactures of.....	55.21
Wood and Manufactures of.....	55.21
Leather Manufactures.....	55.21
Flax, hemp and jute and Manufactures of.....	55.21
Leather Manufactures.....	55.21
Metals and Manufactures of.....	55.21
Wool and Manufactures of.....	55.21
Other Manufactures.....	55.21
Total	55.21
Average.....	55.21

It is estimated that the revenue from duties on all oils, oils and paints, will be reduced by the new bill about $14,000,000, and on earths, earthware and glassware about $14,000,000, and leather manufactures, amounting to $10,000,000 will occur in the new schedule, and manufacturers of wool will be cut about $60,000.

The new sugar schedule naturally shows an enormous increase under the present laws. The only duty on sugar is ½ cent per pound revenue, and since the entire consumption of the United States is manufactured in this country, the revenue from this source during the last fiscal year was only $198,000, while the new sugar schedule, as passed by the Senate, will net the sum of $48,475,000.

The tobacco will show a falling off of about $15,000,000, and the duties on agricultural products will drop about $50,000,000.

Oil, spirits, wines and other beverages the duties will be cut about $50,000,000.

There will be a shrinkage of about $4,000,000 in cotton manufacture, and in the flax, hemp and jute schedule the cut will amount to at least $5,000,000.

Fine wool will serve to reduce the total of the woolen schedule more than $18,000,000 while the new sugar schedule, as there will be a reduction of $10,000,000.

The revenue from pulp, paper and books will be over $80,000,000, and the other sundries on the new bill will be about $10,000,000.

The figures made out by the Bureau of Statistics show a new schedule almost generally accepted by those who desire to see a free sugar bill passed. It is maintained that no more than $35,000,000 will be received from this source, and the revenue from the new income tax and the internal revenue schedules will be sufficient to permit the revenue of the nation without reducing the revenues of the Government to such a point as to promise a deficit.

THE WHISKY TAX.

Great Activity Among Dealers to Get Their Goods Out of Bond.

New York, Aug. 15.—There is now the greatest activity ever known in the whisky trade, and the money to pay the tax is being bartered, borrowed, and scraped together in every possible way. Millions of dollars are now being sent to the states in bond, and money will fairly pour into the Treasury from the distiller and dealers. The new law raises the tax from 40¢ to 10¢ on each gallon, and every whisky dealer in the country is praying that the President will put off signing the bill until the last moment. The same day, however, he signed it, and the stores got out of bond the millions of gallons now in storehouses.

Dealers have been allowed to keep whisky in bond only three years, when the revenue tax must be paid, but a way was found to gain time. The spirit when appraised was charged a charge of driving a galled animal. Voccius was driving a team belonging to George W. Gosselin of 410 Madison avenue. One of the mules attached to the wagon had a galled place on his wither side, 3 by 4 inches, the humane officers stated.

A man, who paid $60,000 into the custom-house yesterday, This one firm alone expects to pay $100,000 within the next few days in the same part of the country. Next half a million dollars whisky tax will be paid in the New York custom-house. The Distillers' and Contractors' Committee, as well as the Whisky Trust, will pay an enormous amount, it being estimated at over $5,000,000. A recent statement gave a sum of $1,000,000, and that amount has been repeated.

Sugar is another interesting article which may be affected by the new bill. The McKinley bill, which the new bill does not touch, is Dutch standard free, but a duty of 40 per cent, with 5 per cent differential added, was imposed on the importation of sugar from the old country. The free admittance did not tend to cause any accumulation of sugar in bond, however, because so full of the great Trust's material that the incoming shipments were held in the bonded warehouse under what is known as a "warehouseman's lien." Everything brought into this country until it can be examined as to its durability. By the time it is ready for market, it is the Government's care, and 70,000 pounds of sugar, this will have to be hustled out to escape duty.

THE RICKS CHARGES.

The Congressional Committee Investigating the Cleveland Judge.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 15.—Members of the Congressional Committee appointed to investigate the charges against Judge Ricks of Cleveland are anxious to begin their work as soon as possible. It is proposed that Congress will be in session so long as longer the committee will take the investigation up next Monday, otherwise they will postpone action until after adjournment; if that does not mean a delay of more than a few days. The members of the subcommittee are Reps. John C. Cullinan (Dem.) of Illinois and Broderick (Rep.) of Kansas, all of whom are lawyers by profession, and two of whom have sat on the bench. No United States looking to impeachment proceedings has been held for years, and there is a lack of precedent. It is believed that a large portion of the revenue from sugar will be lost during the coming year, as the true bill already imported has been greatly reduced. It is therefore believed that the estimate given above is quite as generous as the outlook for the new fiscal year can warrant.

The duties to be received upon the articles enumerated in the schedules of the bill as compared with the original house bill are divided as follows:

The Marriage of a Jasper County Girl at the Age of 13.

CARTHAGE, Mo., Aug. 15.—The marriage of M. G. Smith, aged 34, and Maggie Wilson, alleged to be 13, particulars of which were published in Sunday's Post-DISPATCH, aroused so much indignation when the couple returned to their home at Reeds that Smith left the neighborhood.

W. H. Roper, a representative citizen of Reeds, came to Carthage last night, and is taking steps to have suit for divorce brought in behalf of the girl by her guardian, J. F. Yantzen.

It is said that the girl was only 10 years old at her last birthday, June 24, and she states that she knew nothing of the proposed marriage till she reached Carthage.

A MANIAC MOTHER.

She Dies Herself and Her Children With Rough-on-Rata.

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Aug. 15.—During the absence of her husband, Sunday, Mrs. Robert Cross, who lives near Moonland, in Tucker County, became demented. In her dementia she got a box of rough-on-rata, and forced her three smallest children to eat a teaspoonful of the poison. She then tried to get the eldest child to take a dose, but the child refused. The woman then took a big dose, herself, but, shortly after taking the stuff, she dashed it out of her mouth, and the children, who were watching, caused the children to throw off the poison before a physician could reach them, and two of them will recover. The woman is now in a condition of delirium, and will be unable to care for her child who are in precarious condition and will probably die from the effects of the deadly poison.

DID NOT SAY GOOD-BY.

Wm. E. Smith, a Youth of 29, Leaves Home Without Ceremony.

HANNIBAL, Mo., Aug. 15.—William H. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Smith, residing a short distance south of the city, left home very unceremoniously about 10 o'clock Sunday night and his whereabouts are unknown. He is a young man about 22 years old and the relations between him and his parents have been pleasant and friendly. He is a very bright young man, being a graduate of the Gem City Business College at Quincy. Nothing was known of his disappearance, and he was last seen in his room, when he went to call his father to breakfast. It appears that he came to Hannibal last Saturday and purchased a barrel of flour, and a number of other articles for his mother's use. He was seen in town on Monday and was biting and snapping at everything in reach. It was killed later.

He then detailed the circumstances of the shooting, when he fired first at his mother and then shot his brother, who had nothing to do with the quarrel about the missing shotgun.

CONOMON INQUIRIES.

The Coroner Takes Testimony in Carroll Island Tragedy.

CORONER Frank today began his inquiry over the remains of William Conomon, who was fatally wounded at Carroll Island, last Sunday afternoon and who died at the City Hospital on Monday. Geo. Maier is in jail at Belleville, Ill., charged with having fired the fatal shot. The details of the affair have appeared in the Post-DISPATCH.

John Connor, brother of the dead man, was the first witness examined. He lived on Carroll Island, and another man, John Conner, who had his shop there, was the second. Both men denied that the small owner had to pay any amount of money to the gunsmith.

Conner, who was a fisherman, afterwards persuaded a syndicate of Jacksonville hotel proprietors to offer a $10,000 purse for right to keep Fitzgerald in a day or two and begin work next week. "I will make a choice of training quarters in a day or two and begin work next week," he said. "I am not afraid of my money, and I can do all the pluming with Cortez."

TO MAINTAIN RATES.

Meeting of Lines Interested in the Lake Shore War.

The freight representatives of the east-bound lines met to-day at the office of Charles Brattin, manager of the Cleveland Association, to take action in the matter of the cut rates east of Chicago, due to the war going on between the Lake Shore lines and the transportation companies. The General Managers met for the same purpose yesterday and sized up the situation before instructing the freight departments of their respective railroads. An effort will be made to maintain the tariff.

TO GET HIS CHILD.

Sigel Brantigan Brings Hebrew Corpus Proceedings in the Court at Belleville.

Sigel Brantigan, whose wife, Anna, was born in Germany, has left him nearly a year ago, and unknown, is seeking to secure possession of his 3-year-old daughter, Katie, the child now being in the custody of the grandparents, Philip Seher and wife. He has applied to the Circuit Court for a writ of habeas corpus.

The Missing Real Estate Man Still Unheard From.

VICTIMS OF THE HEAT.—The explosion of a gasoline stove at the residence of Frank Huber, 16, of Clark Avenue, on Friday morning, killed the boy in his bed. The coroner also found the death of Otto W. Kirschbaum, 20, of Clark Avenue, on Friday morning, to be due to the same cause. The boy, who was 16 years old, had been sleeping in his bed when the explosion occurred.

FOR TWO CHILDREN

THE WRONG HOUSE.

The Police Raided a House on Chestnut Street.

ARRESTED THE MOTHER AND AN INNATE OF THE PLACE.

The Children Were Not Found and the Mother Claims She Boards Them Outside. The Woman, Who Is Known as Blanche Seitz, Claims That She Was Forced to Lead an Evil Life.

Last Monday a complaint was lodged with Capt. Boyd of the Central District that two children were being kept in an immoral resort at 1208 Chestnut street, lately started by a woman who passed as Blanche Seitz. Capt. Boyd detailed Special Officers Phil and Jas. Murphy to investigate. The officers kept the house under surveillance until last night, but saw nothing of the children. They then raided the place and last night about 10 o'clock placed the keeper and one other woman under arrest. The two "keepers" were carried away to the Four Courts. Judge Morris said Nige Mitchell $5 and dismissed the case on the ground that their intentions were all right.

A cool breeze from the north reduced the temperature considerably to-day. Although the mercury is hovering about 30 deg., yet by contrast with yesterday to-day is bearable. The readings in the Weather Bureau were as follows:

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 15.—At 12 o'clock the Clerk of the House brought to the Senate the tariff bill with a message requesting the signature of the President of the Senate. At 12:07 p. m. the Vice-President signed the tariff bill.

Representative Pearson, Chairman of the House Committee on Expenditure Bills, left the Capitol at 1 p. m. for the White House carrying the tariff bill, which he will put in the President's possession as early as possible.

The President has written to Chairman Wilson on the outcome of the tariff battle. It is a personal letter largely to express his Wilson mode, and under these circumstances will not be made public, nor would any reference whatever to it have been allowed.

It was written Monday morning, and inadvertently disclosed the fact. The letter is quite long and is in the President's handwriting. It was written Monday morning, and was sent to the White House, and the President received the bulletin saying that the House had determined to recall from its disagreement and accept the Senate's bill.

GRANTED A SEPARATION.

Judge Morris' Method of Dealing With Ill-Mated Couple.

Mrs. Sarah Ferris made a summary deposition of her husband in the First District Police Court to-day without the intervention of a divorce. The parties live on South Broadway and Mrs. Ferris testified that, although she had a very nice daughter, her husband came home yesterday and gave her a good beating. She wanted something done with him, so he would not annoy her any more. As there were no extenuating circumstances, Dr. Morris fined Ferris $20, which he stayed up to pay. Dr. Ferris will leave town before 6 o'clock p.m. to-day. When last seen Ferris was going in the direction of the Eads bridge.

MR. BENJAMIN REMEMBERED.

Presentation to the Retiring Agent of the Big Four.

Mr. W. B. Benjamin, the retiring agent of the Big Four at East St. Louis, was apprised yesterday morning that a crowd had collected near Cashier Moore's office and his presence was required to quell the disturbance. Arriving there Mr. Benjamin discovered 17 of the employees in a state of expectancy, and before he could well determine the cause of the gathering Cashier Moore advised him that the crowd marked the feelings of esteem in which Mr. Benjamin was held as well as the extreme regret felt at his departure. He was leaving to take a long and beautiful and complete traveling outfit which in Mr. Benjamin's new field of labor as Assistant General Manager of the charge on the trip for the C. & A. Railroad will be decidedly serviceable. Mr. Benjamin responded in a pleasant vein commending all the efforts of the company to make the name of St. Louis second to none on the system in point of excellent work. Mr. Benjamin leaves for his new field to-day, accompanied by his wife, who will succeed Mr. Benjamin as General Agent of the Big Four in East St. Louis.

RIGHT OF ASYLUM.The Case of Gen. Eusta Assuming International Importance.*HE MAY LAND AND BE ARRESTED AT SAN FRANCISCO TO-DAY.*The Successful Salvadorean Revolutionists Want to Extradite Him—Once Back in His Land His Execution Will Not Long Be Delayed—Strange Action of the State Department.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 15.—A case of international importance, involving the right of asylum, will be tried in the Federal Court here to-day. United States gunboat Bennington arrives from Salvador. On board the Bennington are Gen. Antonio Eusta and three other refugees from Salvador, in the mail which should arrive to-day from Washington is a warrant for the arrest of the refugee.

The Bennington has been kept outside the harbor for the past two days, awaiting the arrival of this warrant.

Eusta's friends, if he is arrested, will apply for a writ of habeas corpus. Two lawyers have been employed to conduct his side of the case. They will claim that the charges against Eusta are trumped up, and demand proof, which can only be obtained by bringing him to trial in Salvador.

The action of the State Department is now being played into the hands of Eusta's enemies, after granting him refuge on an American warship, creates much surprise. It is said this course is taken largely with the object in view of showing disapproval of the right of asylum. A precedent will be established by this case, which will in future, it is thought, guide the State Department.

What the California courts will decide will be whether or not the charges made against Eusta and his companions are substantiated by the facts, or whether or not they can be extradited. Dr. Guzman, attorney for the State Department, has already laid before the State Department the charges upon which the refugees were tried. They include murder, arson, robbery, and assault with a deadly weapon.

There are extradition treaties under which the United States and Salvador have agreed to extradite persons accused of crimes.

Gen. Antonio Eusta is greatly feared by the members of the existing government in Salvador. He is a man of strong character, and is popular in Washington, and doubtless returned to the land of his birth, and with the assistance of his brother overthrowed the government which has just been established.

It is the general opinion here that the refugees are extradited they will be immediately tried and condemned to death and executed.
